MUNICH NEW SPACE SUMMIT 2023

Space is undergoing a profound transformation. Private actors are now shaping a global market that has long been driven by public institutions. Innovations from space have become key technologies for climate protection and data-driven business models – on Earth and in orbit. But how can we improve the transfer of promising ideas into helpful products or services? How do we finance these often-costly ventures? How can governments moderate the transformation of space?

WHAT IS THE CONFERENCE ABOUT?

For the first time, leading experts in the field of New Space will meet for a conference in Munich. From 15 to 17 May 2023, established companies, government organisations, research institutions, start-ups and investors will exchange views on how to transform an entire industry regionally, nationally and internationally..

The summit is organised by Munich Aerospace and supported by the Bavarian Ministry of Economic Affairs, Regional Development and Energy & the German Aerospace Industries Association (BDLI).

WHAT CAN PARTICIPANTS EXPECT?

Global opportunities and challenges will be addressed during interesting lectures, exciting round-table discussions and inspiring exchange sessions between scientific representatives, VIPs, SMEs and start-ups. In addition to the conference with high-ranking officials, decision-makers and international best practices, an exhibition area and the first Munich New Space Night offer opportunities for interchange and networking.

WHERE WILL THE CONFERENCE TAKE PLACE?

The summit takes place at the Ludwig Bölkow Campus in Taufkirchen, close to Munich. In the evening of day one, there will be a Bavarian State reception at the "Residenz" Munich.
